Hi Justin,

One more note. You may want to collaborate with Michael Dinh. He was able to design signs for our 5858 Wilshire location that combined ALL parking requirements for both our permit and regular street parking into one sign rather than splitting them into two.

This would help us to stay within the maximum number of signs per pole allowed if there are already poles with two signs on them.

Currently I believe the signs on Maple Ave read the following:

2 Hour Parking
Mon-Sat - 8am-6pm
Sun - 11am - 6pm

My thoughts are to create one new sign that reads the following:

TOP

No Stopping
10am-3pm
Fri-Sun
Vehicles with special events permit exempt

BOTTOM

2 hour parking
Mon-Sat - 8am-10am & 3pm-6pm
Sunday - 3pm-6pm

I have attached an image of our signs at Wilshire and also a screen shot of the Maple Ave. Signs.

Let me know your thoughts,

Thanks!

Hi Justin,

Thank you for the hard work and for sending over this cost estimate.

At first site, the number of signs needed seem significantly high. Are you able to send a breakdown of the number of signs needed for:

1. The vending zones
2. The height limit buffer zones

And I know this is assuming we'd have to install ALL new poles, but after doing a site check myself, I was under the impression there were plenty of existing poles or street light poles that the signs could be installed on and mostly all of them currently just have 1 sign, so we wouldn't exceed the 2 sign maximum per pole. How can we confirm this?

We're really looking to keep upfront costs to an absolute minimum so we appreciate your advice on where we can save on sign & pole installations.

Thank you,

Justin,

Please provide the costs of this project at your earliest. And please let me / Michael know should you have any questions. Thx.

I have the map of the area they are interested in. Let's get together Monday to discuss. Thanks.

Ray, are you and Mehrdad available to meet on location to discuss the signage layout for the Santee Alley Food Truck project? My company is working with the BID to draft up a preliminary cost analysis and proposal and we'll need your assistance to get an estimate for signage in order to move forward.

I am available any day after 12pm this week & next (excluding the holiday of course).

Just let me know your thoughts,

Thanks!
